DIRECTIONS

Print and laminate the lacing cards on the following pages. (If you do not have a laminator, you can print the cards on card stock, but they will not be as durable as laminated cards.)

Cut around the leaf shapes. It is okay if you leave a white border around the edge of the printed leaf.

Use a hole punch to make holes on each of the black dots.

Cut lengths of string approximately 40" (100 cm) in length. (Older children with more developed fine motor skills will not need this much.) Then show your child how to thread the string through the holes in the fall leaves.
